Latest Articles About Download.com Download.com is a digital distribution platform and the largest online startup video competition in the world. Leveraging the YouTube network, Download.com helps content creators get residual media value for their videos through an easy-to-use platform where they can distribute video on YouTube and get paid per view, even for years after the content is posted. Download.com is a media company with video content that is focused on informaThe tech giant said it had verified whether the payment was actually made. "The report shows that Google has verified that a transaction was made to the advertiser's marketing account," a Google spokesperson told IBTimes UK. The report also shows that the payment has been traced back to its source - an advertising agency in West London. It said that no such payment was made. The spokesman also said the fraudster tried to get Google to pay out the payment amount again in another advertisement, adding: "The report showed that no such request was made." Mum-of-two Abigail paid £50,000 in personal loan to the fraudster, who claimed to be a top executive at Google, by transferring her money into his personal bank account. The fraudster said she would receive £1 million in return, but Abigail would be the only winner. However, it emerged last month that the fraudster admitted in a police interview to conning Abigail and more than 20 other people. The fraudster was convicted on three counts of fraud and was sentenced at Kingston Crown Court in May to four years in prison. Google says it can detect such fraud scams and that "as soon as it was identified in February 2017, it was reported to the National Fraud Intelligence Bureau". The spokesperson added: "We are also committed to supporting victims and help them recover their losses, and encourage people to immediately report any suspicious activity." Here's how to protect yourself from scammers and phishing email scams. 1. Protect your information
